What track configs are we running? Posted by Weston - 25 May 2008 07:02
I remember hearing something like we'd be running the outer course one day and the full course the other day, but I can't find the post.
Which track configuration are we running on each day?
I've never been to Miller before, and I probably wont be able to drive on Friday, so I need to know what the plan is so that I can prepare myself as much as possible
