I'm going to order the Hankville cage and have someone local weld it up but need some recommendations. Thanks, Mark Re: Cage Welder Dallas Posted by AgRacer - 28 Dec 2012 09:17 I bought my car already setup so I didnt have to go through the cage building process. Give Clownshoe Motorsports a call. He's located in Dallas and would have a good read on some shops around the Metroplex that would be good. Other good places to call and ask for a reference would be Performance Speed Tech, which is the race shop located out at Motorsports Ranch in Cresson, or LG Motorsports.

Im guessing you decided to build a car instead of buying the one thats for sale in Texas?

Thanks everyone. I called around and I'm going with Clown Shoe. They seemed to be the only ones that have done a 944 cage before.
